. She had crept up behind him as he was talking, to make an end of him. He heard her savage hiss as the stroke missed. He came down almost across her back, and if he had been an old mongoose he would have known that then was the time to break her back with one bite; but he was afraid of the terrible lashing return stroke of the cobra. He bit, indeed, but did not bite long enough, and he jumped clear of the whisking tail, leaving Nagaina torn and angry. “Wicked, wicked Darzee!” said Nag, lashing up as high as he could reach toward the nest in the thorn-bush. But Darzee had built it out of reach of snakes, and it only swayed to and fro. Rikki-tikki felt his eyes growing red and hot (when a mongoose’s eyes grow red, he is angry), and he sat back on his tail and hind legs like a little kangaroo, and looked all round him, and chattered with rage. But Nag and Nagaina had disappeared into the grass. When a snake misses its stroke, it never says anything or gives any sign of what it means to do next. Rikki-tikki did not care to follow them, for he did not feel sure that he could manage two snakes at once. So he trotted off to the gravel

Translation (Indonesian)

Dia merayap di belakangnya saat dia berbicara, untuk menamatkannya. Dia mendengar desisan ganasnya saat serangan itu meleset. Dia turun hampir ke punggungnya, dan jika dia adalah luwak tua dulu dia tahu bahwa saatnya mematahkan punggungnya dengan satu gigitan; tapi dia takut pada serangan balik cambuk yang mengerikan dari kobra. Memang dia menggigit, tetapi tidak cukup lama, dan dia melompat menjauh dari ekor yang mencambuk, meninggalkan Nagaina terluka dan marah. “Jahat, Darzee yang jahat!” kata Nag, menyambar setinggi mungkin ke arah sarang di semak berduri. Tapi Darzee telah membangunnya di luar jangkauan ular, dan itu hanya bergoyang maju mundur. Rikki-tikki merasakan matanya memerah dan panas (ketika mata luwak memerah, dia marah), dan dia duduk kembali pada ekor dan kaki belakangnya seperti kangguru kecil, dan melihat sekeliling, dan mencicit dengan amarah. Tapi Nag dan Nagaina telah menghilang ke dalam rumput. Ketika ular meleset dari serangannya, itu tidak pernah mengatakan apa-apa atau memberi tanda tentang apa yang harus dilakukan selanjutnya. Rikki-tikki tidak ingin mengikuti mereka, karena dia tidak yakin bahwa dia bisa mengurus dua ular sekaligus. Jadi dia berlari kecil menuju kerikil and orange trees, clumps of bamboos, and thickets of high grass. Rikki-tikki licked his lips. “This is a splendid hunting-ground,” he said, and his tail grew bottle-brushy at the thought of it, and he scuttled up and down the garden, snuffing here and there till he heard very sorrowful voices in a thorn-bush. It was Darzee, the Tailorbird, and his wife. They had made a beautiful nest by pulling two big leaves together and stitching them up the edges with fibers, and had filled the hollow with cotton and downy fluff. The nest swayed to and fro, as they sat on the rim and cried. “What is the matter?” asked Rikki-tikki. “We are very miserable,” said Darzee. “One of our babies fell out of the nest yesterday and Nag ate him.” “H’m!” said Rikki-tikki, “that is very sad--but I am a stranger here. Who is Nag?” Darzee and his wife only cowered down in the nest without answering, for from the thick grass at the foot of the bush there came a low hiss--a horrid cold sound that made Rikki-tikki jump back two clear feet. Then inch by inch out of the grass rose up the head and spread hood of Nag, the big black cobra, and he was five feet

When there were no people in the bungalow, did we have any mongoose in the garden? So long as the bungalow is empty, we are king and queen of the garden; and remember that as soon as our eggs in the melon bed hatch (as they may tomorrow), our children will need room and quiet.” “I had not thought of that,” said Nag. “I will go, but there is no need that we should hunt for Rikki-tikki afterward. I will kill the big man and his wife, and the child if I can, and come away quietly. Then the bungalow will be empty, and Rikki-tikki will go.” Rikki-tikki tingled all over sebuah batu bata yang dicabut untuk membuat saluran air mandi, dan saat Rikki-tikki menyelinap melalui tepi tembok tempat kamar mandi berada, dia mendengar Nag dan Nagaina berbisik bersama di luar diterangi cahaya bulan. “Ketika rumah ini kosong dari orang,” kata Nagaina kepada suaminya, “dia harus pergi, dan kemudian taman akan menjadi milik kita lagi. Masuklah dengan tenang, dan ingat bahwa pria besar yang membunuh Karait adalah yang pertama menggigit. Lalu keluar dan beri tahu aku, dan kita akan berburu Rikki-tikki bersama.” “Tapi apakah kau yakin ada keuntungan dari membunuh orang?” kata Nag. “Semuanya. Ketika tidak ada orang di bungalow, apakah kita punya luwak di taman? Selama bungalow kosong, kita adalah raja dan ratu taman; dan ingat bahwa segera setelah telur-telur kita di pohon melon menetas (seperti yang mungkin besok), anak-anak kita akan membutuhkan ruang dan ketenangan.” “Aku belum memikirkan itu,” kata Nag. “Aku akan pergi, tapi tidak perlu kita berburu Rikki-tikki setelahnya. Aku akan membunuh pria besar dan istrinya, dan anaknya jika aku bisa, dan pergi dengan tenang. Maka bungalow akan kosong, dan Rikki-tikki akan pergi.” Rikki-tikki merinding ke seluruh tubuh
